

Washington, DC – Congressman John Hall (NY-19) sent a letter to Speaker Pelosi yesterday urging her to consider a vote to extend the 2001 and 2003 tax cuts before the House of Representatives adjourns until November.

Providing tax cuts for middle class families in the Hudson Valley is a top priority for Congressman Hall who believes that hard-working people are already stretching their paychecks as far as they can go.

“Many of these tax cuts benefit middle class families and small businesses in my congressional district and I believe my constituents deserve some fiscal certainty before the end of the year,” said Rep. Hall in the letter. “Before we adjourn, our Democratic Majority should continue to stand for middle class families who play by the rules by extending these tax cuts and show we are serious about cutting the budget deficit created by the GOP during the Bush years.”

Hall, a constant supporter of a prosperous middle class, has been recognized twice by the Drum Major Institute’s theMiddleClass.org as having an “A” voting record for the middle class.
